The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the HONOURABLE
JAMES HAMILTON, Eſq; Preſident,
And the COUNCIL of the Province of Pennſylvania,

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS a Number of Perſons, chiefly of the Colony of Connecticut, have lately, as well as at different Times heretofore, in a forcible Manner, without any Licence or Grant from the Honourable the Proprietaries of this Province, or Authority from this Government, poſſeſſed themſelves of, and ſettled upon a large Tract of Land on the River Suſquehanna, within the known Limits of this Province, from whence they have been removed by due Courſe of Law, and the ſaid Lands are now in the peaceable Poſſeſſion of a Number of People under Contracts made with the ſaid Proprietaries for the Purchaſe of them. AND WHEREAS we have received Intelligence, that a Number of People of the ſaid Colony of Connecticut are now again aſſembled in Arms, and proceeding on their Way to this Province, in a hoſtile and warlike Manner, in order violently and forcibly to take Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Lands on the Suſquehanna. AND WHEREAS by an Act of General Aſſembly of this Province, made in the preſent Year, "for preventing Tumults and riotous Aſſemblies, and for the more ſpeedy and effectual puniſhing the Rioters," it is enacted, "That if any Perſons, to the Number of Twelve, or more, being unlawfully, rioutouſly and tumultuouſly aſſembled together, to the Diſturbance of the public Peace, at any Time after the Publication of this Act, and being required or commanded by any one or more Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace, or by the Sheriff of the County, or his Under-Sheriff, or by the Mayor, Bailiff or Bailiffs, or other Head Officer, or Juſtice of the Peace of any City or Town Corporate, where ſuch Aſſemblies ſhall be, by Proclamation to be made in the King's Name, in the Form therein directed, to diſperſe themſelves, and peaceably to depart to their Habitations, or to their lawful Buſineſs, ſhall, to the Number of Twelve, or more (notwithſtanding ſuch Proclamation made) unlawfully, riotouſly and tumultuouſly remain or continue together, by the Space of one Hour, after ſuch Command or Requeſt made by Proclamation, that then ſuch continuing together, to the Number of Twelve, or more, after ſuch Command or Requeſt made by Proclamation, ſhall be adjudged Felony, without Benefit of Clergy, and the Offenders therein ſhall be adjudged Felons, and ſhall ſuffer Death, as in Caſe of Felony, without Benefit of Clergy." WHEREFORE, to preſerve the Peace of the Province, and to warn and prevent any of the Inhabitants of this Government from being unwarily drawn in to join the ſaid Intruders in proſecuting their illegal Settlements, and from ſubjecting themſelves to the Penalties of the ſaid recited Act, WE HAVE judged it proper to iſſue this our Proclamation, hereby forbidding all His Majeſty's Subjects of this, or any other Colony, or Province, on any Pretence whatſoever, to intrude upon, ſettle or poſſeſs any of the aforeſaid Lands, or any other Lands within the Limits of this Province, without the expreſs Permiſſion of this Government, as they will anſwer the contrary at their Peril, and on Pain of being proſecuted with the utmoſt Rigour of Law. AND WE DO hereby ſtrictly charge and enjoin all Magiſtrates, Sheriffs, and other Peace Officers within this Province, to inforce, and carry into ſtrict Execution, the ſaid Act of General Aſſembly, as well againſt the ſaid Intruders, as all others, who may tranſgreſs the ſame.

GIVEN in Council, under the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at Philadelphia, the Tenth Day of July, in the Year of our Lord One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Seventy-one, and in the Eleventh Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord GEORGE the Third, by the Grace of GOD, of Great-Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, and ſo forth.

JAMES HAMILTON, Preſident.

By Order of the Preſident and Council,
JOSEPH SHIPPEN, junior, Secretary.

GOD ſave the KING.

From the LONDON CHRONICLE of April 13.

To the PRINTER.

SIR,

THOUGH I do not agree with the Gentleman who ſigns himſelf A WHIG, in ſome of the Papers, in every point relative to the Privileges of Parliament, I perfectly do in one, that the confidence of the People will never be regained without giving them a new body of Repreſentatives; not that this alone will be ſufficient to reſtore peace and harmony to the nation, order and reſpect to government, or that love and attachment to the perſon of our Sovereign which the dawn of his reign ſeemed to promiſe to him; to which his virtues certainly intitle him, but which my heart bleeds to ſay, is now almoſt extinct and forgotten. To gain theſe great ends, to a new Houſe of Commons muſt be added almoſt a total change of men in power, and of meaſures of government; I ſay almoſt, not an entire change of men, becauſe there are in the preſent Adminiſtration a few, but very few, indeed, whom I ſhould wiſh to ſee in any other, either from the qualities of their heads or their hearts. Much has been ſaid for and againſt the opinion of a Carlton Houſe Junto, the influence of a certain Earl, &c. From what quarter an influence proceeds I will not pretend to ſay; but no man in his ſenſes will deny but that an influence does exiſt; and no man, who is not paid for the contrary, will aſſert, that this influence has not at this critical moment brought this country to the edge of a precipice. In all the different Miniſtries which have diſtreſſed this nation at home, and diſgraced it abroad, ſince the acceſſion of his preſent Majeſty, a change of Miniſtry has been only a change in a few employments, and it has been an argument conſtantly brought againſt forming a Miniſtry on a comprehenſive plan and broad bottom, that there are not places enough to take in the number of men neceſſary to effect it, which I grant would be true, if, in time to come, as in time paſt, moſt of the honourable and profitable employments are to remain fixed in the hands of as undeſerving a ſett of men as ever diſgraced a Court, and brought reproach on him, her or them, who recommended firſt, and have ſince ſteadily ſupported them.

Is it owing to the great part he takes in buſineſs, to his profound abilities, or his amiable and affable behaviour, that one of the firſt poſts is conferred on his Grace of A--------r, or to the liberal and generous way of thinking, ſo evident in L---d T-----t, that he has another of them? Is it from the calm unruffled temper, the good ſenſe, or the ſtrict regard to juſtice, which L--d P----t has lately in ſo conſpicuous a manner diſplayed, that he is thought worthy of holding two employments, one of them taken with marks of inſolence and contempt from as reſpectable a nobleman as any in this country? And why two more ſhould be heaped on the Earl of D------h, is very hard to tell. It cannot be merely for that graceful manner and addreſs, which make him a fit ornament to a court, nor yet for his elocution in the Houſe, nor ſubmiſſion to his wife: It muſt be for ſome hidden quality, which either I do not know, or cannot declare. Is it to the incapacity which my Lord D-----r had honeſty enough to acknowledge, or his ſtrict attachment to the Chriſtian religion, that he changes with Miniſtries indeed, but it is always from a worſe to a better employment? Or is it to the parliamentary powers of theſe men, or their love for Revolution principles, and averſion to Jacobitiſm, that in all thoſe ſhocks and convulſions of Miniſtries, which a deep laid plan has brought about to eradicate honour, confidence and virtue, from amongſt all ſetts of men, they, with others of the ſame ſtamp, remain ever fixed and immoveable? Is it to his ſkill in military affairs, his unerring ſtile in writing and ſpeaking, or the inviolable attachment to his friends and patrons, that "whatever King ſhall reign, Lord B-rr--gt-n will ſtill be Vicar of Bray?" To the courage of Sir G-lb--t Ell--t, who has dared to ſhew that the prime Miniſter (for whoſe virtues in private, and abilities in public, life I have unfeigned reſpect, though I cannot pardon his tameneſs on this occaſion) is ſo only in name, and not in ſubſtance, that Scotland, though with places for life, has not wherewithal to ſatisfy him, his vaſt ambition has ſtomach for Engliſh ones alſo? Has merit alone brought Mr. J--k--ſ-n with wonderful rapidity from the very loweſt ſteps almoſt to the ſummit of the ladder; procured ſeats in Parliament for his brother, and fifty more? for what purpoſe brought there, and with what qualifications they ſit there, heaven and their conſciences only know; and filled all the inferior departments and offices with men, whom no Miniſter has dared to lay his hand upon. If theſe things are ſo, ſomething beſide chance has been the cauſe; and whilſt they continue ſo, it is the laſt degree of folly to expect a remedy for the preſent diſtractions. The arms of the enemies muſt then be turned againſt themſelves, and the ſcheme which Lord B-te laid, to ſap and ruin the conſtitution of this country, be employed to produce the contrary effect. With a new Parliament muſt come a new ſett of men in every department; a Miniſtry be formed upon a very wide foundation; piques, jealouſies, and conteſts for the firſt places, which, with wondrous art, and black deſign, have been fomented, muſt now be forgotten; and as an indiſpenſible ſtep to all, let W----s, Lord B te, and every firebrand of this country, be abſolutely incapacitated from ever having it in their power to diſturb public tranquility again.

Soho, April 9. COMMON SENSE.

JAMES CHATTIN,

BEGS favour of all his acquaintance and others, to be cloſely employed in conveyancing, or in poſting, ſettling and adjuſting accounts. As he has been long out of employ, he propoſes to do his buſineſs punctually, with all the neceſſary ſecrecy, at the moſt reaſonable rates.

RUN away from the ſubſcriber, living at the Sign of the Unicorn, in the Borough of Lancaſter, the 8th of this inſtant July, an Iriſh ſervant man, named JOHN WHITE, about 18 years of age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high, long ſtrait hair, of a ſandy colour, a long face, large eyes, long noſe, his right hand full of warts; had an Engliſh horſe lock on his right foot; took with him a pair of new ſhoes, tied with leather ſtrings, new blue ſtriped trowſers, one ozenbrigs ſhirt, one new blue and white, and blue lincey-wooliey checked ditto, an old black ſilk handkerchief, an old caſtor hat, with a hole in the crown. Whoever takes up ſaid ſervant, and brings him to Lancaſter goal, or ſecures him, ſo as his maſter may get him again, ſhall have Forty Shillings, or in any goal out of the county, Thirty Shillings reward, and reaſonable charges, paid by GODFREY CLINE. ¶

JOHN INGLIS,
JAMES CRAIG,
Philadelphia, July 9, 1771. ROBERT RITCHIE.

DR. RYAN's incomparable Worm Deſtroying SUGAR PLUMBS, neceſſary to be kept in all FAMILIES; ſo exceedingly valued by all people who have had of them in Great-Britain and Ireland, for their tranſcendent excellency in deſtroying worms of all kinds, both in the bodies of men, women and children, by not only breaking the knots in the duodenum, or gut next the ſtomach, but they paſs through the ſmalleſt paſſages of the body, and purge away thoſe ropy and ſlimy humours which are the cauſe of thoſe pernicious vermin, and the ſource of many other diſorders; they are one of the beſt purges in the world for groſs bodied children, that are apt to breed worms, and have large bellies; their operation is mild, ſafe and pleaſant; they wonderfully cleanſe the bowels of all ſtiff and clammy humours which ſtop up the parts, and prevent the juice of food from being conveyed to the liver, and made blood, which is often the caſe with children, and is attended with a hard belly, ſtinking breath, frequent fevers, rickets, and a decay of ſtrength in the lower parts; likewiſe ſettled achs and pains in the head, ſwellings, old ſores, ſcabs and tetters, or breaking out, will be perfectly cured, and the blood and ſkin reſtored to its original purity and ſmoothneſs. They purge by urine, and bring away the gravel, and effectually cure all obſtructions of the urine, or ulcers in the kidneys. They at once ſtrike at the true cauſe of the ſcurvy, and entirely deſtroy it, and all ſcorbutick humours and effects, root and branch, ſo as never to return again; and what makes them more commendable is, they are full as agreeable to both taſte and ſight as loaf ſugar; and in their operation as innocent as new milk.

I have by theſe plumbs cured a great many children of whooping, or chin-coughs, and agues, which diſtempers are very common and troubleſome to families, and the want of theſe plumbs are the ruin of many childrens conſtitutions.

Theſe plumbs enrich and ſweeten the whole maſs of blood, carry off all groſs, corrupt and putrid humours, and create a freſh and healthy complexion in ſuch as are affected by any putrid matter.

The plumb is a great Diuretick, cleanſing the reins of ſlime; it expels wind, and is a ſovereign medicine in the cholick, and griping of the guts. It allays and carries off four vapours which occaſion many diſorders in the head. It opens all obſtructions in the ſtomach, lungs, liver, reins and bladder; cauſes a good appetite, and helps good digeſtion. It hath been found wonderfully ſucceſsful to ſuch perſons as are going into chronical diſtempers, as aſthmas, phthiſick, or ſhortneſs of breath, dropſies and yellow jaundice. Now, I hope all impartial perſons are ſatisfied, that the medicine which works upon ſuch humours, will almoſt reach any diſtemper, if not too far gone, ſince corruption and putrefaction are the fore-runners of all diſeaſes; therefore no better phyſick can be taken for all ages, ſexes and conſtitutions, from infancy to an old age. Theſe plumbs are highly ſerviceable to the female ſex, from the age of 14 to 20 years, and from 40 to 50. Each box contains one dozen of theſe plumbs, price Eight Shillings, with directions. Sold by E. MILNE, in Second-ſtreet, Philadelphia.

To be SOLD, by
BENJAMIN HARBESON, in Market-ſtreet,

THE Time of a hearty Dutch Servant GIRL, fit for Country Work, who hath between 3 and 4 Years to ſerve. Philadelphia, July 11, 1771. ¶

WAS taken away, in the night between the 3d and 4th of this inſtant July, out of Mr. Willing's dock, a middling ſized SCOW, built with inch and half oak plank, the timbers acroſs the bottom are 3 by 4, and 3 by 5, and dowtailed through the outſide plank, the ſide timbers nearly the ſame, 3 knees on each ſide, bolted with rivet bolts to the ſides and bottom, corner pieces forward and aft, and runs down near to the knees; there is a board by way of ſheathing over the ends of the floor timbers on each ſide, but does not go quite forward nor aft, a ring bolt forward, to faſten the painter to, and a ſculling place aft, no thawts nor benches acroſs, ſome looſe boards laid in the bottom; as ſaid ſcow was well faſtened, a raft of ſpars, a pilot-boat, and another large boat lay without ſide of her, I think it was with great difficulty ſhe was got out, and that there muſt have been more than one man to get her out. Whoever will bring ſaid ſcow to the ſubſcriber, and give information of the perſon or perſons that took her away, ſo that they may be brought to juſtice, ſhall have Forty Shillings reward, and reaſonable charges, paid by ¶ THOMAS CUTHBERT.

FIVE POUNDS Reward.

 He has ſince been ſeen near Joppa, in Baltimore county, Maryland, and it is thought will endeavour to get ſettled in ſome of the mills in that province.

Philadelphia, May 14, 1771.

WHEREAS the Partnerſhip of FRANKLIN and HALL, of this City, Printers, has now been expired above five Years, and though frequent Notice has been given, requeſting thoſe indebted to ſaid Partnerſhip to pay, yet little or no Regard has been had thereto; this therefore is to advertiſe all ſuch, that if they do not diſcharge their reſpective Ballances, in three Months from this Date, they will be ſued, by FRANKLIN and HALL.

Philadelphia, May 14, 1771.

ALL Perſons indebted to the Subſcriber for Books, or other Stationary, are requeſted to pay. And whereas a Number of Perſons have greatly exceeded their Times of Payment with him, notwithſtanding the repeated Notices thereof given, This therefore ſerves to advertiſe thoſe in particular, that if they do not ſettle their Ballances, in three Months from this Date, their Accounts will be immediately put into an Attorney's Hands, by DAVID HALL.

L O N D O N, April 11.

The Hon. CH----S F--X'S Speech relative to the LORD MAYOR.

THIS Houſe repreſents the people of England; and whoever ſets at nought its authority, ſets at nought the authority of the people. Gentlemen may talk of the voice of the people. I ſhould be glad to know how it is to be diſtinguiſhed. Even Rapin acknowledges, that petitions are but a very equivocal way of learning how the current of popular opinion ſets. For my part, I think both petitions and addreſſes of ſo equivocal a nature, that I will never acknowledge the voice of the people to be fully expreſſed any where but in this Houſe. Here are united the mouths of the ſeparate bodies of men, diſperſed over the kingdom; and here they ſpeak. I therefore hold, that the Magiſtrates of London have by their late acts been guilty of a contempt not only of the Commons, but of the people of England. Our privileges are the privileges of the people; our dignity is their dignity. The greater and more awful we are, the greater and more awful they become.

This Houſe is a Court of itſelf, and part of the higheſt Court in the nation, which is ſuperior to thoſe in Weſtminſter Hall; and what laws it joins in making are to bind inferior Courts; but cannot be underſtood to bind itſelf as a Court. Such a circumſcription of its power would prove not only dangerous, but deſtructive to the dignity of Parliaments, and level them with the common courts of law. Great care ſhould be taken how reſtraints and limitations are laid upon the proceedings of this Houſe, leſt, as it is the general inqueſt of the nation, you render its power uſeleſs. Can it be ſuppoſed, that we, who repreſent all the people, are not entruſted with as much power for the preſervation of our own conſtitution, upon which the ſupport of government ſo much depends, as are granted to ordinary courts and officers, that are only deſigned for the welfare of particular perſons?

If the doctrines now broached take place, if a Magiſtrate can take a delinquent out of our hands, we become the ſcorn and contempt of the whole nation. If we cannot oblige thoſe, who have infringed our privileges, to appear at our bar, in order to ſubmit to reprimand or puniſhment, who will hence forward pay us any regard? A bribed Elector, or corrupt Returning Officer, will deſpiſe your orders. He will tell you, that he will not be judged but by his equals, and according to the law of the land. The conſequences of allowing this violation of your ancient preſcriptive privileges appear to me ſo fatal to your very exiſtence, that I cannot heſitate a moment in recommending vigorous meaſures.

Suppoſe Miller had been guilty of high crimes and miſdemeanours, it will not, I think, admit of a doubt that you had a right to apprehend and bring him to condign puniſhment. To deny this to be the caſe, is to deny that you have a right to impeach. Since then it is indiſputable that you have a conſtitutional authority to apprehend in greater crimes, does it not follow a fortiori, that you have the ſame authority in leſs? Were not this argument ſtrengthened by long and undiſputed poſſeſſion of the power now in queſtion, I would not be ſo ſure of its concluſiveneſs; but when I ſee that it has been exerciſed, and exerciſed without interruption, ever ſince a Houſe of Commons exiſted, I can no longer entertain the ſmalleſt doubt.

If you ſay that our power of apprehending, however legal and conſtitutional elſewhere, is illegal in the City, except the warrant be ſanctioned by a City Magiſtrate, and ſerved by a City Officer; I anſwer, that ſuch an immunity would be the ſubverſion of all ſubordination and government. The City would then be an empire within an empire. There would be in the nation an independent and ſelf-exiſting power, whoſe intereſt might claſh with that of other parts, and render it refractory and ungovernable. Being in ſome meaſure detached from the legiſlature, it might ſet on foot an oppoſition, which might introduce every ſpecies of anarchy and confuſion.---Nay, is not this already the caſe? Is it not a fact that the City, proud of its riches, numbers, and unconſtitutional claims, has ſet its face againſt the legiſlature, and dared to dictate not only to us, but to the Sovereign? I appeal to the candour of every man preſent, whether I do not fairly ſtate the matter. Even prejudice and obſtinacy muſt allow it. Is it not then time to rouſe, and to exert that diſcretionary power, with which we are entruſted for the ſafety of the whole? Ought we not to check the evil in its commencement, before it has time to infect other parts?"

April 13. Upon a calculation touching the preſent lottery, it appears that the good people of England pay their King the full ſum of two hundred thouſand pounds ſterling, for a licence to gamble for no more than 450,000l.

It is not true that Donald Macleane, who ſhot young Allen, ſtands (as has been falſly reported in all the papers) a guard over Mr. Oliver in the Tower. Nothing can be more ſincere than the eſteem which Mr. Oliver and the Officers expreſs for each other. Gentlemen never entertain any low animoſity from the different ſituation in which they may happen to be placed: That the Officers now upon duty in the Tower are gentlemen, is apparent from the behaviour even of every common ſoldier under them, which has been remarkably civil and obliging, not only to the priſoners, but to all perſons of every degree, who have flocked thither to viſit them.

Some Ladies, who in this diſſipated age are an honour to the nation, are about to form themſelves into an aſſociation, to be called the Benevolent Meeting; an eminent and worthy Clergyman is to be Steward, and a Gentleman, remarkable for his humanity, is to be Secretary. Every Lady is to ſubſcribe a ſtipulated ſum at each meeting, which is to be expended in relieving ſuch objects as do not receive benefit from public charities. The plan is Lady L-cy C--n-ly's. This inſtitution will do as much honour to the fair ſex, as the Coterie has diſcredit.

April 25. There never was a time when arts of luxury and frivolity were cultivated at a greater profuſion of expence. A certain Baronet has given an annuity of 100l. to a favourite Italian Singer, and has paid off his debts, on account of his diſappointment in the harmonical meeting.

May 2. Orders have been iſſued from the Board of Works for a ſurvey to be taken of the caſtles and fortifications on the Kent, Suſſex, and other coaſts, in order to their being repaired during the courſe of the ſummer.

From the LONDON CHRONICLE of April 27.
To the PRINTER.

SIR,

THE C-----n Houſe junto, by which I mean three or four very raſh and ill-adviſed, though very ſubtle and cunning, men that Lord Bute has left behind him, intend, through the medium of the S---ct C-------ee, to propoſe to the H. of C. to direct a new warrant for apprehending Miller, and to order the Sheriffs of London to aſſiſt in carrying that warrant into execution.

In this propoſition they have ſeveral objects.

Firſt, If Lord N---h, from that natural diffidence of his own opinion, which is almoſt his only vice, and which has already ſo often made him the tool of their violent and deſtructive councils, ſhould be again prevailed upon to adopt their meaſure, he will be anſwerable to the public for all its conſequences. We all know that ſuch a warrant will, in the preſent temper of the times, meet with freſh oppoſition; other Magiſtrates of the City have publicly avowed, that upon this queſtion they will follow in the ſteps of the Lord Mayor and Mr. Oliver, and will commit the Serjeant; nay, Mr. Wilkes himſelf is again ready, and wiſhes for the opportunity. The Sheriffs, though men of more ſenſe and underſtanding, may however deſire to decline being concerned in a matter of which they have already ſo ſtrongly expreſſed their diſapprobation. From theſe obſtructions new tumults muſt enſue; the dignity and authority of the Houſe of Commons will be again committed with the meaneſt of the people; the King will be again moſt groſly inſulted, and perhaps the removal of the oſtenſible Miniſter, and proroguing the Parliament, will be found the moſt deſirable mode of putting an end to the diſpute.

Secondly, If, on the other hand, Lord N---h ſhould follow the dictates of his own feelings and good-ſenſe, and ſeeing the calm into which this lately troubled ocean has ſo ſoon ſubſided, ſhould, like an able Pilot, wiſh to avoid freſh ſtorms, and ſhould therefore refuſe his aſſiſtance in ſupport of this plan, then theſe very men will ſeize the favourable opportunity of inſidiouſly traducing him to his Sovereign as a weak and cowardly Miniſter, unfit to guide the helm of a ſpirited and factious people; and by theſe arts they will alſo obtain his removal. They have for ſome time felt that Lord North, convinced at laſt of the raſhneſs and violence of their councils, has been endeavouring to diſengage himſelf from their chains, and has been leaning to other and more temperate adviſers; from that moment they planned his deſtruction, and this they will perſiſt to accompliſh, per fas aut nefas, though the ruin of the conſtitution ſhould be involved in his fall.

But, thirdly, They have ſtill a farther object in view.

Since the baniſhment of Lord Bute, from the univerſal odium of the people, to which, among other things, the North Briton very conſiderably contributed, thoſe tools he left behind, and who had, during his adminiſtration, already ſwallowed in idea all thoſe honours and riches which the profuſeſt Miniſter could have ſhowered on his moſt devoted ſervants; I ſay, theſe Gentlemen, rendered deſperate, and almoſt frantic, from diſappointment, have never ceaſed with unabating venom to perſecute to deſtruction the avowed author of thoſe papers. They have not been content with the moſt rigorous engine of the law, but have directed the arm of government itſelf, almoſt, indeed, to no other purpoſe; the authority of the King, the Houſe of Lords, and the Houſe of Commons, have been ſeparately p------d to this end, nor will they ever ceaſe offering up this ſacrifice to the pride of their offended maſter, until they have conſumed the miſerable victim.

It is ſuppoſed that Wilkes will be the next year's Sheriff; the Houſe of Commons will, as is uſual, be next ſeſſion called upon to order the renewal of thoſe warrants which have been left unexecuted in this.----Wilkes will refuſe to obey their order: A new mode of puniſhment muſt then be propoſed againſt his devoted head; a bill of baniſhment, of pains and penalties, will naturally occur, and the united powers of the Legiſlature will be collected againſt that man, whoſe real crime has been the ſhare he had in removing Lord Bute from his Majeſty's preſence and councils.

But how long will this be endured? For eight years this rich, commercial, manufacturing, and otherwiſe happy kingdom, has been ſhaken to its center, to glut the vengeance of a weak and fooliſh Miniſter.---The K--- himſelf, with every diſpoſition and wiſh to make his people happy, has been daily and publicly inſulted and vilified as an oppreſſive tyrant; both Houſes of Parliament have been branded with ſervility and corruption; the Courts of Law have been rendered obnoxious and contemptible to the people; every tie, by which ſociety is held together, has been diſſolved.------Will the Gentlemen of this country, Members of both H. of P. never take the alarm? Will they continue to ſuffer themſelves from hour to hour to be miſled by ſophiſtry and falſe arguments? Will the public good, and peace and quiet, and the true intereſts of this country, never be ſuffered to prevail over thoſe inſidious councils, which, under the maſk of preſerving dignity and authority, are only indulging rancour and malice? Let the good ſenſe, natural to this nation, be no longer abuſed.---We have at laſt a Miniſter, who, if he liſtens only to his own good underſtanding, and is ſupported, as I have no doubt he will be by his gracious Maſter, has it yet in his power, as it is in his inclination, to render the remainder of his Majeſty's reign eaſy and glorious to himſelf, happy and proſperous to his people.---The Parliament have, to their honour, in more than one or two inſtances, ſhewn their readineſs to co-operate in great and public meaſures for the good of the people, though they, at the ſame time, gave up their own undoubted privileges.---The King has not, cannot have any other object than the peace and proſperity of the nation.---For heaven's ſake then let theſe evil Counſellors be put away; let us try, though but for a ſeaſon, to govern this country without provoking riot and confuſion; let us attend to national objects, and not to private reſentments; let us encourage and ſtrengthen the civil power, without a thought of the neceſſity of calling in the military; let us return to our natural good-humour and feeling, that by the bleſſings of providence we may enjoy riches, plenty, dominion, and every earthly happineſs beyond our neighbours; let us ſtrive to ſhew ourſelves worthy thoſe gifts, by reſtoring peace and quiet to a ſenſible and well-judging people.

The COURTIER's SOLILOQUY.

DAZZLED with the falſe luſtre of ambition, I quitted too precipitately my little walk in life, in hopes of ſhining among the great. By executing every miniſterial commiſſion with which I was charged, with the moſt ſervile fidelity, however diſagreeable it was to my taſte, however repugnant to my conſcience, I raiſed myſelf, by haſty ſtrides, from obſcurity to ſplendor. By never framing the ſlighteſt objections to the commands of my deſpotic ſuperiors, by always receiving them with humility, and obeying them with ſwiftneſs, I have fixed myſelf in a magnificent ſituation. I have acquired honours and riches, and ſhould derive no ſmall happineſs from the envy which I excite among thouſands leſs ſucceſsful in the world, did I not feel myſelf deſpiſed by many of the moſt reſpectable men in the nation, whoſe contempt is the more mortifying to me, as I am conſcious of deſerving it. In vain do my friends (my flatterers rather ſhould I ſay; for how can we, with any propriety, call thoſe our friends, who ſtudiouſly endeavour to hide us from ourſelves?) in vain do they beſtow on my principles and my parts, the moſt exalted encomiums; in vain would they make me believe, that I am a capital pillar of the Britiſh conſtitution; ſick of the fawning crew ſurrounding me from morning to night, I begin to nauſeate their groſs, their ſurfeiting adulation. My gains, indeed, have been conſiderable ſince I have been a patient perſevering drudge in the miniſterial road; conſiderable too have been my laſhes. What have I gained? A Ribbon and a Penſion. What have I loſt? My Character and my Peace."

NEWBERN (NORTH-CAROLINA) June 28.

ON Monday Evening laſt his Excellency the Governor returned to the Palace, in good Health, from the Expedition againſt the Regulators; and though it was late in the Evening before he arrived, yet as ſoon as it was known, the whole Town was inſtantly illuminated, and a Bonfire kindled. Many Gentlemen met, and ſpent the remainder of the Evening in feſtive Joy, for the ſafe Return, and happy Deliverance of his Excellency's Perſon, from the imminent Perils to which it has been expoſed in the late Battle with the Regulators.

On Wedneſday about 12 o'Clock, the whole Town met in a Body, and waited on his Excellency at the Palace with the following Addreſs.

To his Excellency WILLIAM TRYON, Eſquire, Captain General, Governor, and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of North-Carolina.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE, his Majeſty's dutiful, loyal and affectionate Subjects, the Magiſtrates, Freeholders, Merchants, and Inhabitants, of the County of Craven, and Town of Newbern, do congratulate your Excellency on your ſafe Arrival to this part of His Majeſty's province of North-Carolina.

We alſo congratulate your Excellency on being the chief Inſtrument, in the Hand of Providence, in ſuppreſſing a moſt wicked and dangerous Inſurrection and Rebellion, in the weſtern Part of this Colony, thereby reſcuing us from Anarchy and Confuſion, reſtoring to us at the ſame Time the invaluable Bleſſings of our Government and Conſtitution, by which our Lives, Liberties, and Properties, are again ſecured.

We muſt retain a grateful Senſe of your Magnanimity, and of your Excellency's Goodneſs to this Province, ſo long as we reflect that you have reſtored thoſe ineſtimable Bleſſings at an Expence of Fatigue and Danger to your Perſon, at leaſt equal to the private Soldier whom you commanded, and that at a Time when you was called upon to the Government of another Province, equally reſpectable, and in perfect Tranquility.

May the People of that Province be ever impreſt with the ſame Senſe as we are, of your ardent Zeal for the Happineſs of His Majeſty's Subjects, and of your Ability to obtain it; you will thereby be as certain of the Approbation of your royal Maſter, our common Sovereign, as you are of a good Conſcience.

To theſe be added a long and uninterrupted State of good Health to yourſelf and Family, and the Felicity which good Men are to expect in Futurity.

To which ADDRESS his Excellency was pleaſed to return the following Anſwer.

To the MAGISTRATES, FREEHOLDERS, MERCHANTS, and INHABITANTS, of the County of Craven, and Town of Newbern.

GENTLEMEN,

YOUR very friendly and affectionate Congratulations in your Addreſs does me Honour.

I have a grateful Senſe of the good Wiſhes and Reſpect the worthy Inhabitants of Craven County, and the Town of Newbern, have always manifeſted for me and my Family.

That Succeſs which accompanied the late Expedition, ſuppreſſing a dangerous Rebellion, muſt, next to the gracious Interpoſition of divine Providence, be principally attributed to the gallant Behaviour and Courage of the Troops under my Command.

The loyal Inhabitants of this Province in general, and you Gentlemen in particular, ſhall always partake of my beſt Wiſhes.

PALACE, the 26th of June, 1771. W. TRYON.

Juſt before the Battle between our Troops and the Regulators began, they ſent his Excellency the following Petition.

To his Excellency WILLIAM TRYON, Eſquire, his Majeſty's Governor in Chief, in and over the Province of NORTH-CAROLINA,

The PETITION of us the Inhabitants of Orange County.

Humbly ſheweth,

First, THAT we have often been informed of late, that your Excellency is determined not to lend a kind Ear to the juſt Complaints of the People, in Regard to having roguiſh Officers diſcarded, and others more honeſt propagated in their Stead; and Sheriffs and other Officers in Power, who have abuſed the Truſt repoſed in them, to be brought to a clear, candid, and impartial Account for their paſt Conduct, and other Grievances of the like Nature, we have long laboured under, without any apparent Hopes of Redreſs.

Secondly, That your Excellency is determined on taking the Lives of many of the Inhabitants of this County, and others adjacent to it; which Perſons being nominated in the Advertiſement, we know them to be Men of the moſt remarkable honeſt Characters of any in our Country.----Theſe Aſperſions, though daily confirmed to us, yet ſcarcely gain Credit with the more polite amongſt us; ſtill, being ſo often confirmed, we cannot help having ſome ſmall Jealouſies abounding among us. In order therefore to remove them, we would heartily implore your Excellency, that of your Clemency you would ſo far indulge us as to let us know (by a kind Anſwer to this Petition) whether your Excellency will lend an impartial Ear to our Petitions or no; which, if we can be aſſured of, we will with Joy embrace ſo favourable an Opportunity of laying them before your Excellency, with a full Detail of all our Grievances, and remain in full Hopes and Confidence of being redreſſed by your Excellency, in each and every of them, as far as lies in your Power; which happy Change would yield ſuch Alacrity, and promulgate ſuch Harmony in poor penſive NORTH-CAROLINA, that the ſad preſaged Tragedy of the warlike Troops marching with Ardour to meet each other, may, by the happy Conduct of our Leaders on each Side, be prevented. The Intereſt of a whole Province, and the Lives of his Majeſty's Subjects, are not Toys, or Matters to be trifled with. Many of our common People are mightily infatuated with the horrid Alarms we have heard; but we ſtill hope they have been wrong repreſented. The chief Purport of this ſmall Petition, being to know whether your Excellency will hear our Petition or no: We hope for a ſpeedy and candid Anſwer. In the mean Time, your humble Petitioners ſhall remain in full Hopes and Confidence of having a kind Anſwer.

And as in Duty bound ſhall ever pray, &c.

Signed in Behalf of the Country, by

John Williams, Joſeph Scott,
Samuel Lowe, Samuel Clark.
James Wilſon.

To which his Excellency ſent the following ANSWER.

Great Alamance Camp, May 16, 1771.

IN Anſwer to your Petition, I am to acquaint you, that I have ever been attentive to the true Intereſt of this Country, and to that of every Individual reſiding within it; lament the fatal Neceſſity to which you have reduced me, by withdrawing yourſelves from the Mercy of the Crown, and the Laws of your Country, to require you who are aſſembled as Regulators, to lay down your Arms, ſurrender up the outlawed Ringleaders, and ſubmit yourſelves to the Laws of your Country, and then reſt on the Lenity and Mercy of Government: By accepting Terms in one Hour from the Delivery of this Diſpatch, you will prevent Effuſion of Blood, as you are at this Time in a State of War and Rebellion againſt your King, your Country, and your Laws.

To the People now aſſembled in Arms,) who ſtyle themſelves Regulators.)

THE Supreme Court of Oyer and Terminer for the Trial of the Regulators in the Back Country, began at Hilſborough the 30th of May, and continued to the 20th of this inſtant June; during which, Twelve were tried, and condemned for high Treaſon, the Evidence againſt them being clear, that they, with a large Body of Regulators, withſtood and oppoſed the Forces under his Excellency's Command, in the Battle of the 16th of May laſt; which act is declared to be Treaſon by a Law of this Province, paſſed the laſt Seſſion of Aſſembly. Bills of Indictment were found againſt two others upon the ſame Charge, but the Petit Jury acquitted them. His Excellency the Governor was pleaſed to ſuſpend the Execution of Six out of the Twelve, till his Majeſty's Pleaſure be known; the other Six were executed on Wedneſday the 19th Inſtant, at Hilſborough. Among theſe laſt, the moſt diſtinguiſhed was Benjamin Merrill, who had for ſome Years been a Captain of Militia in Rowan County.

When the Chief Juſtice paſſed Sentence, he addreſſed himſelf in the following Manner.

"Benjamin Merrill, you have been indicted and found guilty by your Country of High Treaſon, which is the greateſt Crime that any Man can commit, conſidered as a Member of the Community; becauſe thereby he would overturn that State of Order and Civil Government, which ſecures to us every Thing that is valuable or deſirable in Life.

"To complain of Grievances, and to endeavour a Redreſs of them in a lawful Way, is not only juſtifiable, but Praiſe-worthy; but to ſnatch the Sword from the Magiſtrate, and to refer to the Deciſion of Arms, what the Laws of your Country ſhould alone determine, is a moſt deteſtable Crime; for it brings on the Miſeries of an inteſtine War, which is perhaps the greateſt Evil that any Nation or People can ſuffer.

"It is probable, that when you firſt formed your fatal Connection with the People called Regulators, you did neither intend or foreſee the Miſchiefs they would lead you into; but greatly infatuated as you was, it is Matter of Aſtoniſhment that the Act of Aſſembly paſſed the laſt Seſſion, could not reſtrain you from the raſh and violent Action which has now brought you to the Bar of this Court. That Act ordained, that if any Body of Men ſhould withſtand or oppoſe an armed Force raiſed in Virtue thereof, that in ſuch Caſe they ſhould be adjudged Traitors, and ſuffer accordingly. Divine Providence, which ever acts for wiſe and gracious Purpoſes, permitted you and your deluded Companions to deſpiſe this Law; you daringly withſtood his Majeſty's Troops, and warned, and wilful, ruſhed upon your Fate.

"I earneſtly beſeech you to employ the ſhort Time you have to live, in a Manner ſuitable to your unhappy Condition; that ſo, after having ſatisfied the offended Juſtice of your Country, we may yet piouſly hope, that you will obtain Forgiveneſs at the Throne of GOD.

"I muſt now cloſe my afflicting Duty, by pronouncing upon you the awful Sentence of the Law; which is, That you Benjamin Merrill, be carried to the Place from whence you came, that you be drawn from thence to the Place of Execution, where you are to be hanged by the Neck; that you be cut down while you are yet alive, that your Bowels be taken out and burnt before your Face, that your Head be cut off, your Body divided into Four Quarters, and this to be at his Majesty's Disposal; and the Lord have Mercy on your Soul."

Nine other Persons were indicted for robbing a Waggon of 12 Pounds of Powder, and were acquitted, the Court and Jury being satisfied that the Facts as proved did not amount to the Crime of Robbery. They were afterwards indicted for a Trespass, found guilty, and fined each 25l. Proc. which the most of them immediately paid, and were discharged.

BOSTON, July 1.

To THOMAS HUTCHINSON, Governor in Chief in and over the Province of the Massachusetts-Bay, in New-England;

The ADDRESS of the People called Quakers, at their General or Yearly Meeting for Worship, and transacting the Affairs of our Society, held in Rhode-Island for New-England, by Adjournments from the 13th to the 17th Day of the 6th Month, 1771, inclusive.

May it please the Governor,

AS divers of us have had an Opportunity of observing thy Conduct in the various public Stations in Government which thou hast heretofore sustained, and it appearing to us that thou made Justice and Equity the Rule of thy Actions; thy being appointed to the Chief Seat of Government, is very agreeable and satisfactory to us.

We earnestly desire that thy Administration may be to the Honour of GOD, acceptable to the King, and a Blessing to the Province over which thou presides; afford Peace and Satisfaction to thyself, and in the End tend to promote thy immortal Happiness.

We hope to be always ready and willing to contribute to the Support of Government in every Respect consistent with our religious Principles, and where any of us are or may be restricted thereby within thy Jurisdiction, we intreat thy Assistance and Protection.

With sincere Love to thee we conclude, and remain thy assured Friends, Signed, in and on Behalf of our said Yearly Meeting, by

ISAAC LAWTON, Clerk.

The GOVERNOR's Answer.

I DESIRE it may be made known to the Friends within the several Governments of New-England, that I have a very grateful Sense of the Regard and Esteem which they have expressed in this kind Address. It is the more obliging, because a great Proportion of the Members present at their General or Yearly Meeting, do not live within my own Government.

I shall always delight in confirming and cultivating the orderly and benevolent Disposition of the Friends among the several Societies of that Denomination, and among all other Christian Societies, as far as my Influence may extend.

NEW-YORK, July 15.

On Monday last, in the Sloop Sukey, Capt. Yarborough, in five Days from North-Carolina, His Excellency WILLIAM TRYON, Esq; our newly appointed Governor, with his Lady and Daughter, arrived at the Narrows about three o'Clock in the Morning, and between twelve and one came up to Town, where at his Landing he was welcomed by a Salute of fifteen Guns from the Fort, to which he was conducted by the Gentlemen of the Council, and others who waited his Landing.

On Tuesday the Gentlemen of his Majesty's Council assembled at the Fort, where His Excellency's Commission was read, and the Oaths of Office administered, after which, attended by the Mayor and Corporation, the Sheriff and other Officers of the City, with many other Gentlemen, they marched in Procession to the City Hall, where his Commission was published, and after the customary Formalities, His Excellency, with the Gentlemen of the Council, returned to the Fort, where an elegant Dinner was provided. At Night the City was illuminated.

We hear that Col. JOSIAH MARTIN, now in this City, who succeeds to the Government of North-Carolina, will this Week depart for that Place, in the same Vessel in which His Excellency our Governor lately arrived from thence.

To His EXCELLENCY WILLIAM TRYON, Esq; Captain General and Governor in Chief in and over the Province of New-York, and the Territories depending thereon in America, Chancellor and Vice-Admiral of the same.

May it please your Excellency,

THE Rector and Inhabitants of the City of New-York, in Communion of the Church of England, as by Law established, with great Sincerity congratulate your Excellency on your safe Arrival with your Lady and Family in this Province.

As our most gracious Sovereign has been pleased to appoint the Right Honourable John, Earl of Dunmore, our late worthy Governor, to the supreme Command of his ancient and loyal Dominion of Virginia, we most gratefully acknowledge his Majesty's paternal Goodness, who is ever anxious for the Welfare and Felicity of his Subjects, in nominating a Gentleman of your Excellency's distinguished Character to succeed his Lordship in the Command of this Province.

When we reflect upon your Excellency's extensive Abilities, Experience in public Affairs, and strict Regard to the wholesome Laws of our Country, which are the only sure Basis of our civil Happiness, and in the Vindication of which you have lately risqued your valuable Life, we are confident that this loyal Province, under your wise Administration, will be prosperous and happy.

Considering the Piety and Virtue of our Royal Master, we cannot doubt but that you, Sir, his worthy Representative, will encourage the Increase of true Religion----countenance and support the established Church in this City----and protect us in the full Enjoyment of our invaluable Rights and Privileges.

May the Sovereign Ruler of all Events bless your Excellency with Health and Happiness---may your Administration be applauded by the best of Kings---and may you, for many Years to come, have the Satisfaction of enjoying the sincere Esteem, Love and Affection of a grateful People.

These, Sir, are the earnest Prayers, and the ardent Wishes of,

May it please your Excellency,

New-York, July the 12th, 1771. Your Excellency's most dutiful, And most obedient Servants.

His Excellency was pleased to return the following ANSWER.

To the Rector and Inhabitants of New-York, in Communion of the Church of England, as by Law established.

GENTLEMEN,

I THANK you for your very friendly Congratulation on my safe Arrival with my Family in this Government; for the honourable Sentiments you entertain of my Endeavours for the public Service; and for your good Wishes for my Prosperity in my present Administration.

I feel a lively Sense of Gratitude for his Majesty's most gracious Goodness, in appointing me to succeed the Earl of Dunmore in the Command of this Province; and I am sensible the nearer I can come up to his Lordship's truly honourable Principles, the more compleat will be my Wishes to make a loyal People and Country, over whom I have now the Honour to preside, happy and flourishing.

You may be assured I shall make the true Interest of the established Church in this City, a peculiar Object of my Attention, and that I shall be zealous at all Times, as well to countenance and support the same, as to protect its Members in the full Enjoyment of their invaluable Rights and Privileges. WILLIAM TRYON.

A Letter from Detroit, of the 25th of May, says, "By Indians who are just now arrived Express from William Tucker, an Indian Trader, we have the disagreeable News, that the Sloop Beaver, which sailed from hence the 5th Instant for Niagara, is cast away upon the Rocks about 10 Leagues below Sandusky, and that Capt. The Barge was found ashore all smashed to Pieces, and a small Trunk with our Letters drove up on the Beach, many of them lost, and several others damaged and illegible: There was on board about £3000 in Peltry, and a large Quantity of Flour for Niagara."
